St. James Cathedral, Seattle

May 29, 2011

WELCOME, SUMMER VISITORS!
St. James is glad to welcome visitors from near and far throughout the summer months. Each week this summer, a page in the bulletin will offer some historic and artistic highlights of St. James Cathedral. This week, we highlight the Cathedral's altar.

In addition, each week a drawing for a special Cathedral gift will be made from among all the visitor envelopes used. Please write your address on the visitor envelope provided in the pew and drop it with your offering into the collection basket. Thank you for adding to the power of our prayer by your presence today.

St. James is the Cathedral Church for the Catholic Archdiocese of Seattle. It is also a parish church for a large and vital community. Noted for its beautiful liturgies and its extensive outreach to the poor, the Cathedral also serves the city of Seattle as an important gathering place, a crossroads for learning, and a center for the arts.

Built in 1907, St. James Cathedral is an impressive Italian Renaissance-style building whose twin towers soar to a height of 167 feet. St. Frances Xavier Cabrini, the first American citizen to be canonized, worshiped in the Cathedral in its early years. In 1994, a nationally acclaimed restoration and renovation completely renewed the beauty of this beloved Seattle landmark, transforming it into a dynamic space for the celebration of the Church's liturgy as well as for ecumenical, cultural, and civic events.

Artistic highlights of St. James include magnificent ceremonial bronze doors and tabernacle by German artist Ulrich Henn; an award-winning Shrine to the Blessed Virgin Mary; and a large collection of stained glass by renowned artists Charles Connick and Hans Gottfried von Stockhausen. The Cathedral Chapel is home to a remarkable 15th-century Renaissance altarpiece by Neri di Bicci.

St. James Cathedral is also a vibrant parish community of more than 2,400 households, coming from more than 180 ZIP codes around the entire Puget Sound region.

I will come to the altar of God,
the God of my joy. (Psalm 43)

THE CATHEDRAL'S ALTAR (1994)

The Cathedral's altar is the work of many hands. The altar itself was created by Harold Vogel, incorporating marble panels representing Eucharistic symbols of wheat and grapes by four different artists. The two panels on the west side are from the Cathedral's original high altar (1907), and are the work of an unknown Italian artist. Those on the south side are by Northwest sculptor Mary Jo Anderson of Oregon; those on the east are by New York artist Randall Rosenthal (who also created the Cathedral's ambo), and those on the north are by Alaskan Inuit sculptor Larry Ahvakana. Each artist brought a fresh, individual interpretation to the theme. The panels they created are unique and varied: a wonderful emblem for the diversity of the people who gather around this altar day after day to celebrate the Eucharist!

Under the Cathedral's altar are relics of the saints, including St. Frances Xavier Cabrini. The relics are an important reminder that when we celebrate the Eucharist, we are not alone: rather, we pray in company with the "cloud of witnesses" who have gone before us in faith.

Above the altar is a skylight, also added in 1994. The oculus Dei ("eye of God"), with its inscription from Christ's Last Supper words in Luke's Gospel – "I am in your midst as one who serves" – gently reminds us that just as we find Christ truly present in the sacrament of his body and blood, we will find him also in our service of those in need.

Disaster Preparedness

A WORKSHOP PRESENTED BY THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Tuesday, June 7, 2011 | 7:00pm
Pastoral Outreach Center, Holy Names Room

As we have seen recently in this country and around the world, there are many kinds of disasters that can occur. Disasters happen anytime and anywhere. And when disaster strikes, you may not have much time to respond. A winter storm could confine your family at home. An earthquake or flood could cut off basic services for days.

A recent national survey revealed that only 7% of Americans have taken the recommended actions to prepare for disasters. If you're in the remaining 93%, the American Red Cross urges you to be Red Cross Ready! Your family will cope best by preparing for disaster before it strikes.

Presentation topics will include

- Emergency preparedness – make a plan, get a kit, be informed
 - Creating and maintaining a disaster supplies kit
- Preparing for severe weather – floods, power outages, lightning, winter weather

Red Cross handout materials on these topics will be provided at the presentation
