ST. JAMES CATHEDRAL

February 2, 2014

Dear Friends,

I am happy to be able to share with you the wonderful news that at the beginning of February, a new pipe organ will be installed along the east wall of the Cathedral chapel. The organ is a gift to the Cathedral from Carol Robl and the Robl family, and it was built by Frank Robl, Carol's wonderful husband, a devoted parishioner of this Cathedral for many years, who died last year at this time.

Frank was an extraordinary man. He had amazing human gifts – the disciplined, analytical mind of a skilled engineer and the artistic tastes of a Renaissance man. His interests were endless and encyclopedic. There were few things Frank couldn't do, few things he couldn't figure out. He not only learned to play the organ, he figured out how to build one!

The organ we will be receiving was in Frank and Carol's home for many years but I find it altogether fitting that it will now find a home in St. James Cathedral. It will be but one more of Frank's 'fingerprints' in this place – along with the handsome wooden signboards at each of the entrances of the Cathedral, the beautiful replica of a medieval chant stand on which we place an icon each Sunday at the beginning of Mass, and the processional crucifix that we use every year during Advent and Lent.

I am grateful beyond words to Carol and each of the Robl children: Frank, Jr., Chris, and Andrea, for making it possible for yet one more of Frank's works of art to find a home in St. James Cathedral. I know you will join me in praying for them and for their family.

Father Ryan

P.S. There will be a dedicatory recital at some point in the future.

Holy Things, Holy People

Exploring Catholic history in the Northwest through treasures from the past

PART 3: FATHER BROUILLET'S ACCOUNT OF THE WHITMAN MASSACRE

9 FEBRUARY 2014

Father Jean-Baptiste Abraham Brouillet was named Vicar-General of the Diocese of Walla Walla not long after A. M. A. Blanchet was appointed its first bishop. He accompanied Bishop Blanchet on the long journey west, and it was the 34-year-old Father Brouillet who sorted out many of the details of their journey, hiring guides, purchasing oxen, planning the route—and, perhaps most importantly, speaking fluent English! He little imagined that within two months of his arrival, he would be a central figure in a tragic sequence of events which would mark a turning-point in the history of the Pacific Northwest, and lead to the dissolution of the Diocese of Walla Walla.

Bishop Blanchet and Father Brouillet were by no means the first missionaries to arrive in Walla Walla. Dr. Marcus Whitman and his wife Narcissa, Presbyterian missionaries, had already been working in the region for more than ten years. The Whitmans' intent was to bring not only Christianity, but a new way of life to the native peoples, based not on hunting but on farming. Their endeavors met with mixed success. The Whitmans proved very effective at encouraging more whites to settle in the region, but less successful at transforming the lives of the Cayuse and Umatilla tribes. And the more white settlers came, the more the native peoples around Walla Walla were decimated by diseases, especially measles and dysentery. The suffering was particularly intense in 1847. Some of the Cayuse leaders began to focus their blame on Whitman, who was also a medical doctor.

These tensions were very much in evidence at Whitman's first encounters with the Catholics. Father Brouillet wrote: "He soon showed by his words that he was deeply wounded by the arrival of the Bishop.... He said he did not like Catholics.... He spoke against the Catholic Ladder and said that he would cover it with blood to show the persecution of Protestants by Catholics."

Bishop Blanchet received a warmer welcome from other Protestant missionaries, especially Rev. Spalding, and in time relations with Whitman also improved. After a series of frustrating delays, Father Brouillet was able to establish a mission about 25 miles from the Whitman settlement. He arrived on November 27, and was visited by Whitman the next day. The Doctor seemed anxious, and declined an invitation to lunch, saying he needed to get home before dark as there had been threats against his life. Before leaving, he asked Father Brouillet to come to see him soon.

"Protestantism in Oregon: Account of the Murder of Dr. Whitman, and the Ungrateful Calumnies of H. H. Spalding, Protestant Missionary, by the Rev. J. B. A. Brouillet, Vicar-General of Walla Walla." Father Brouillet's account of the Whitman massacre was republished several times. Courtesy of the Archives of the Catholic Archdiocese of Seattle.

Two days later, Father Brouillet visited a Cayuse camp to minister to the dying and baptize some children. Upon his arrival he heard with horror what had happened the day before: the Whitman mission had been attacked, and the Whitmans were dead, along with eight others. The rest of the whites living at the settlement—women and about 30 children—were being held hostage. Father Brouillet passed a sleepless night in the camp, and the next morning hastened to the Whitman mission. The situation of the hostages moved him to tears, but they begged him to show no signs of emotion—"it would only have endangered their lives and mine." Father Brouillet helped to wash the bodies of the dead and prepare them for burial in the mass grave which had been hastily prepared, and thus the great Protestant missionary of early Washington was buried by a Catholic priest.

Father Brouillet was allowed to return to his mission, closely watched by the perpetrators of the massacre. At the risk of his own life, he warned Spalding, who escaped to The Dalles. In the weeks that followed, Father Brouillet endeavored to assist the widows and orphans of the Whitman mission, and eventually they were ransomed and freed. However, his efforts to prevent further violence were unavailing. By early 1848, he and Bishop Blanchet were forced to leave Walla Walla. The diocese was dissolved, and Bishop Blanchet was transferred to the new Diocese of Nesqually.

We owe the existence of Father Brouillet's account to a curious and sad twist in the story. Reverend Spalding, whose life Brouillet had saved, later turned against the priests, and in speech and in print agitated against them, accusing Bishop Blanchet of having incited and even planned the massacre. The official investigation conducted by officials at Fort Walla Walla found in favor of the priests, but anti-Catholic prejudice was strong and Spalding's baseless accusations were repeated again and again. Each time, Father Brouillet quietly defended himself and Bishop Blanchet. "Those who are acquainted with me," he wrote, "know that I have nothing more at heart than to live in peace with all men... I am disposed to look with an equal eye upon the members of all religious denominations, to do all the good I can for the good."

The Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick

A communal celebration of the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick will take place at St. James Cathedral on Saturday, February 15, at a special 10:30am Mass. Father Ryan will preside. All are welcome to attend the Mass. If you have questions, contact John Simpson, Pastoral Care Minister, at 206-274-3173, or e-mail jsimpson@stjames-cathedral.org.

What is the sacrament of Anointing of the Sick?

The sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick is one of the seven sacraments of the Catholic Church. Like the sacrament of reconciliation (confession), it is a sacrament of healing. Our understanding of this sacrament has changed with time. In the early Church it was seen as a sacrament of healing, but later it came to be known as “Extreme Unction” – literally, “last anointing” – and was not administered until death was imminent. With the reforms of the Second Vatican Council, the Church has returned to the more ancient practice with regard to this sacrament.

Who can receive this sacrament?

Catholics, both children and adults, who are seriously ill, facing surgery, or experiencing the weakness that comes with old age should seek this sacrament.

What happens during the Rite of Anointing?

The Rite of Anointing will be celebrated in the context of a special Mass on Saturday, February 15, at 10:30am.

After the homily, the Liturgy of Anointing begins. The priest leads a litany in which all pray for the healing and forgiveness of the sick person, as well as for doctors, nurses, and caregivers. Then, in silence, the priest lays his hands on the head of the sick person, an ancient gesture of prayer that is used in connection with many of the sacraments, especially the Sacrament of Reconciliation and Holy Orders. After the laying on of hands, each sick person is anointed with the Oil of the Sick (pure olive oil, blessed each year by the Archbishop at the Chrism Mass). The sick person is anointed on the forehead and then on the hands, and simple words accompany the anointing: “Through this holy anointing may the Lord in his love and mercy help you with the grace of the Holy Spirit. May the Lord who frees you from sin save you and raise you up.” A concluding prayer follows, and if the sacrament takes place in the context of the Mass, the Liturgy of the Eucharist continues as usual.

Wills & Estate Planning Seminar

St. James Cathedral, Pastoral Outreach Center

Wednesday, February 19 at 3:00pm & 7:00pm

Did you know that an estimated 65% of Americans do not have a will? Many think that only wealthy people need an estate plan. But this simply isn't true! Even those with no dependents need an estate plan if they have any property and want to decide who receives it. A will can cut delays and probate costs, waive expenses, and help reduce taxes.

The Cathedral parish will provide a free seminar on Wills and Estate Planning on Wednesday, February 19 from 3:00pm until 4:30pm, and again from 7:00pm until 8:30pm. Celeste McDonell, Cathedral parishioner and estate planning attorney, and the Planned Giving Office of the Archdiocese of Seattle will offer their broad knowledge and expertise. You'll have a chance to ask questions and get good advice on what to do next. The whole session is short, simple, and to the point! You'll also receive useful materials to take home and study.

All are welcome. This session will benefit people of all ages and is offered with no strings attached. Please sign up by detaching the form below and dropping it in the offering basket or returning it to the parish office. Or simply RSVP to Maria Laughlin, Director of Stewardship and Development, 206-382-4284.

This is a FREE, no-strings-attached presentation which includes

- Assurance that "putting your affairs in order" is easier than you may think
- Information on how to prepare your will
- Information on distributing your estate
- Information on guardianship issues
- Estate gifting techniques and more information on tax advantages
- Methods of increasing your retirement income
- An attorney available to answer your questions

Cathedral Blood Drive

Tuesday, March 4, 2014
Pastoral Outreach Center

12:30pm to 6:30pm (closed 2:30pm-3:15pm)

A Unique Gift

What could be a more personal, caring and meaningful gift than the gift of blood to someone in our community who has the need? The urgent and ongoing need for blood donors invites us to consider yet another aspect of stewardship, that is, the gift of ourselves in a way that is fundamental and essential to life itself.

Who needs blood?

It is very likely that someone you know at St. James has had a need for blood. People who need blood include those who have been in accidents or require surgery or chemotherapy. In our community, that blood would have come from donors to the Puget Sound Blood Center, including St. James blood drive donors. To meet the needs in our community, over 900 people must donate blood through the Puget Sound Blood Center every weekday.

St. James & the Puget Sound Blood Center

St. James has been sponsoring Lenten and Fall blood drives since 2006. The Puget Sound Blood Center is always enthusiastic about our partnership in this effort, but most especially about the number of new donors at our blood drives. We ask those who have not yet donated to consider donating for the first time. We ask those who have generously donated in the past to please consider doing so again.

Sign up at coffee hours on 2/16, 2/23 or 3/2.

Or e-mail jsimpson@stjames-cathedral.org to sign up or to find out more. Or call 206-274-3173.

Parish-wide Volunteer Opportunities

Great Music for Great Cathedrals (February 28 & March 1)

January and February, 2014

Thanks to the many generous parishioners who have stepped forward to volunteer for Great Music!

But...

WE STILL NEED MORE STAGE CREW, OFFICE VOLUNTEERS AND USHERS!

For over two Great decades, Great Music has provided a Great way to get to know other Great parishioners! Volunteer an hour, a morning, a day, a week or a whole bunch of time. Great Music couldn't happen if it wasn't for hundreds of Great volunteers who generously give their time. Every year we look forward to new Great volunteers joining our ranks, learning, having fun, and enjoying the fellowship of a dedicated group of parishioners and community folk. Great Music requires that we have a lot of Great volunteers doing a lot of different things.

STAGE CREW - Must be able to attend all rehearsals and performances - Tuesday, February 25 through Saturday, March 1, after work until 10:30 pm. Stage Crew members get to be part of the show, by moving sets and props around in between and during the performances. This is a job for adults and older teens, and requires light to moderate lifting. We need four to five more folks to help us fill this crew. Dinner provided each night!

Also STAGE CREW SUPPORT - Similar to above, but for folks who are unable to commit to all performances and rehearsals. Dinner provided, as well!

OFFICE - Beginning February 1, we need volunteers in the Music Office, weekdays 10-4. Give information over the phone, take messages, and help us sell Reserved Passes for the concert. We need help during the entire week of February 3-7, and February 13 & 25 from 1-4, and February 17 from 10-1.

USHERING - Be the face of hospitality as people arrive and are seated for the concerts. You will also assist in selling passes at the door, and directing people within and around the Cathedral building. We could use 3-4 more ushers for both Friday (February 28) and Saturday (March 1).

For more information call the Music Office at 206-382-4874 or email musicoffice@stjames-cathedral.org
