BLESSING OF CHILDREN (Noon)

All children, together with their families, are invited to gather around the altar platform for a blessing.

CREED

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.
I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

All BOW

and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

All STAND UPRIGHT

For our sake he was crucified
under Pontius Pilate,

he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son
is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.
I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism
for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Thanks, in part, to the generosity of visitors like you, we are able to celebrate the Church's liturgy here in a fitting and beautiful way. We are also able to offer a wide range of services to needy people living in the central district of our city.

Dear Friends,

I know you will want to join me in welcoming Rosanne Michaels back to our pastoral team. Some of you will remember her fondly from the years she ministered here with us (1995-2006). She rejoins the staff now to head up our aAdult Confirmation program as well as our program for "returning Catholics" (Welcome Back!). In addition, Rosanne will work with Suzanne Lee in various aspects of Family Ministry, including baptismal preparation. And, given Rosanne's wide scope of interests, I suspect she will be making her mark in other areas of parish life, too! Please join me in welcoming Rosanne Michaels back to St. James Cathedral.

Holy Things, Holy People

Exploring Catholic history in the Northwest through treasures from the past

PART 16: SEATTLE COLLEGE MEMORABILIA

5 OCTOBER 2014

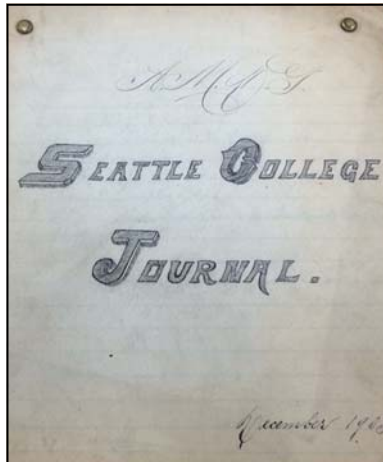

The story of Seattle University—like the story of St. James Cathedral—begins with Seattle’s pioneer priest, Father Francis Xavier Prefontaine. In 1890, by popular demand, he began a school for boys, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary.

The first classes were taught in the basement of Our Lady of Good Help Church, but Prefontaine was nothing if not ambitious. He purchased a lot at 6th and Spring with his own money, and built a grandiose structure which he dubbed “St. Francis Hall” in honor of his patron saint.

At about the same time, Father Cataldo of the Jesuits sent Father Van Gorp to Seattle in search of property for a future school. He made a down payment on a large plot of land on Madison at Broadway. Meanwhile, Father Prefontaine had apparently bitten off more than he could chew at St. Francis Hall. In April, 1891, Bishop Junger wrote to Father Cataldo, asking him to send Jesuits to manage the school. Father Cataldo put the Jesuits’ own school project on hold and sent two priests, Father Victor Garrand and Father Adrian Sweere, to take over the school.

Father Garrand was an extraordinary character. Born in France, he was a missionary priest almost all his life, serving in Syria and Egypt before coming to Yakima. In spite of the hardships of missionary life, he had a taste for the finer things. In Yakima he not only built an elegant church and residence, in which Brother Carfagno (an excellent cook) used to prepare exquisite meals, he also added what he called his “little paradise”: a garden, orchard, and vineyard. Father Garrand also had a taste for finer things in liturgy—“processions, pageants, and magnificent altar celebrations,” in the words of Jesuit historian Wilfred Schoenberg. “Garrand was also uncommonly pious. Emotional, sometimes he wept when he preached. Kind and zealous, he worked too hard for his own good.”

Father Garrand and Father Sweere arrived in Seattle in the fall of 1891, and took over St. Francis Hall, renaming it Immaculate Conception. Father Prefontaine was certainly grateful for their presence in Seattle, which relieved him of responsibility for the school. That did not prevent him, however, from charging them rent for the use of the building—to the tune of $2,250 a year! Within a few years the Jesuits were able to build a new church and school on their own property at Madison and Broadway (both were in the building now known as the Garrand Building).

By 1898, enrollment had grown and Immaculate Conception was renamed Seattle College. The Jesuit Fathers focused on an intensive college preparatory curriculum, including Latin, Greek, English, history, math, geography, and Christian doctrine. It was not until 1909 that the College granted its first bachelor’s degree.

The Seattle University Archives include a number of treasures from those early days, including a Seattle College sweatshirt, and a dozen hand-written issues of the Seattle College Journal. This journal—“published” (a handwritten copy was passed from student to student) from 1901 to 1903—includes handwritten student essays on a variety of topics. We get a glimpse of the classroom—“Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 1:15 to 2:15 P. M. we slight our good old Saxon and assume the language of Pindar and Homer.” Another contribution describes a rigorous silent retreat which took place during the week before Thanksgiving: the boys spent “their days in silent meditation, while often, I suppose, thoughts of a large smoking turkey and mince pies crept in unawares but only to be cast aside immediately.”

The students were free to write about their own interests—thus even the Christmas stories include bear attacks, shipwrecks, and train collisions. The essays respond to current events as well, including the assassination of President McKinley in September, 1901. Of particular interest are several essays that describe visits to the Cathedral Fair of October, 1903 which helped raise the funds to build St. James Cathedral. One essay describes how the young men would be besieged by young ladies all entreating him to buy raffle tickets: “he reminded me of a sour pickle, dropped by mistake into a barrel of sweet ones. The poor fellow seemed to be reciting a silent prayer to his maker, that the girls would at least leave him keep five cents for carfare home.”

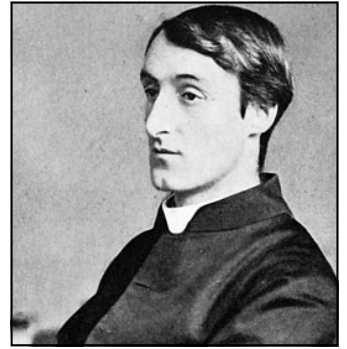

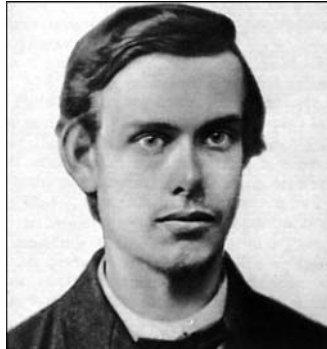

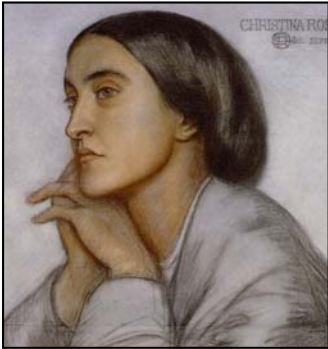

Today, Seattle University continues to be a good neighbor to St. James Cathedral!

Immortal Love

Poets of the Spiritual Life

Wednesdays, October 8, October 15, November 5, and November 19
7:00pm-8:30pm | St. James Cathedral, Rectory Parlors

This series will explore the spirituality of four Christian poets from the Victorian period: CHRISTINA ROSSETTI, FRANCIS THOMPSON, ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON, and GERARD MANLEY HOPKINS. Corinna Laughlin (Cathedral liturgy director and PhD in English Literature) will offer an overview of the poet and a close look at a few key poems, read by Cathedral reader Scott Webster. All are welcome!

October 8 | Christina Rossetti (1830-1894)

Christina Rossetti is perhaps best known today for her Christmas lyric "In the bleak midwinter." She was one of the finest poets of the Victorian period, and among her most compelling works are those exploring Christian themes.

October 15 | Francis Thompson (1859-1907)

Francis Thompson was born into a prominent Catholic family, but spent his youth on the streets. We will explore Thompson's greatest poem, The Hound of Heaven, one of the classics of Catholic poetry in English.

November 5 | Alfred, Lord Tennyson (1809-1892)

The defining event of Tennyson's life was the death of his best friend Arthur Hallam in 1833. During this time when we remember our dead, we will read selections from Tennyson's In Memoriam.

November 19 | Gerard Manley Hopkins (1844-1889)

One of the greatest poets in the English language, Gerard Manley Hopkins was also a Catholic convert and Jesuit priest. We will explore some of his shorter poems which touch on the dark and light of his life and relationship with God.

A booklet with the poems to be read and discussed is free in the Cathedral Bookstore if you would like to prepare in advance. Copies will be available at each session as well.

CATHEDRAL KITCHEN GARDEN

Our Cathedral Kitchen Garden had an incredible first summer! The garden has produced an amazing bounty of fresh healthy vegetables for the Cathedral Kitchen meal program, more than anyone expected for our first year. It's now time to prepare the garden

Join us for our fall work parties:

- . Saturday, October 18, 8:30am-1:00pm
- . Saturday, October 25, 8:30am-1:00pm

We'll be pulling plants, raking, moving compost and top-dressing all the garden beds. Expect to have a great time in fellowship with your friends, have a good workout, and perhaps get a little bit dirty. You don't need any specific gardening skills! Bring work gloves and a sack lunch - and a wheelbarrow, if you have one!

Better Job Prospects: After studying English with his tutor, Edouard was finally able to pass his driver's test. With his license, he can now broaden his job search. Anna gained the English skills and confidence to apply for and enroll in a hairstyling academy.

Increased Self-sufficiency and Confidence: Rimma returned merchandise to a store and had it credited to her account; talked to her doctor without an interpreter, explaining her medical conditions and getting medical information first-hand; and initiated conversation with English speakers in a waiting room, while waiting in line, and on a bus tour.

One Client's Story

Hi. My name is Abel Chavez. Thanks to the citizenship project with St. James, it was possible for me to become a United States citizen.

Two years ago I heard about the citizenship project. I decide to give them a call and I met Jim Hodges. Jim mentioned that I could be eligible for a waiver on the application fee. After filling out all the paper work I was able to receive the waiver. Seven months later I became a citizen of the United States.

Becoming a U.S. citizen was the best thing that could ever happen to me. It opened many doors not only for me but also for my family. Jim was interested in helping me with my daughter's citizenship. Once again, Jim walked me through the entire process. Because my daughter is a minor, the process was smooth and fast. Thanks to Jim and the citizenship program, my daughter and I now have a better future in our country. I am happy to know that my daughter has better opportunities in this country such as attending college. My daughter and myself would like to give a special thanks to Jim for all the help he provided us and his patience. We are very proud to be United States citizens.
